135-3 CELLULAR TELEPHONE

W/RESCU

 6 PASSENGER

The primary functions of the Remote Emergency Satellite Cellular Unit (RESCU) Subsystems are:
- Allows user two way communication with a response center infrastructure.
- Provides access to the communication system with a minimal amount of effort.
- Provides means of verbal and data communication without the use of hands.
- Provides vehicle location.
- Provides access to a response center which can dispatch emergency assistance and roadside assistance respondent.
- In performing the above functions, the Vehicle Emergency Messaging Subsystem accomplishes the following:
  - These functions are achieved by integrating GPS and cellular phone technology within the vehicle.
  - Provides access to the response center communication system via a single button press.